Wildlife Photographer of the Year published by Lark Photography Books, contains a compilation of winning photographs by professional photographers from all over the world. The Veolia Environment Wildlife photographer of the year competition is held every year with more than 30,000 entries representing over 80 countries. These extraordinary shots of natural landscapes and wildlife are unbelievable. A short story about each photo is included. Look for the picture of the loggerhead turtle struggling to survive while caught in an old abandoned net. A careless fisherman's mistake caused a dangerous situation for this reptile. With the help of the photographer this beautiful turtle was saved.

Rock 'n' roller Steven Tyler wrote a memoir called Does the Noise In My Head Bother You? This book is filled with the unfiltered and outrageously funny stories of his life. This American music industry giant talks about his childhood, the rise and fall and the rise again of his band Aerosmith, and his constant drug use and rehabilitation.

Country music singer Shania Twain wrote the book From This Moment On for her son. She wanted him to have an historical record of her life. She grew up in extreme poverty with 4 other siblings. Her parents died in a terrible car accident when Shania was young. She stepped up to take care of her brothers and sisters. She talks about the sacrifices she made to keep her siblings together. Her singing career came much later. Shania's life has always been an open book. Her marriage failed and ended in a very public divorce. The healing process would be a long road. Shania writes with compassion, inspiration and hope. If you have ever experienced love, abuse, betrayal, divorce, or death of a loved one, this book is a must read.
